Nature Pix with Creative Pinellas Artist Laureate Mikhail Mansion

A poetic display of nature and technology

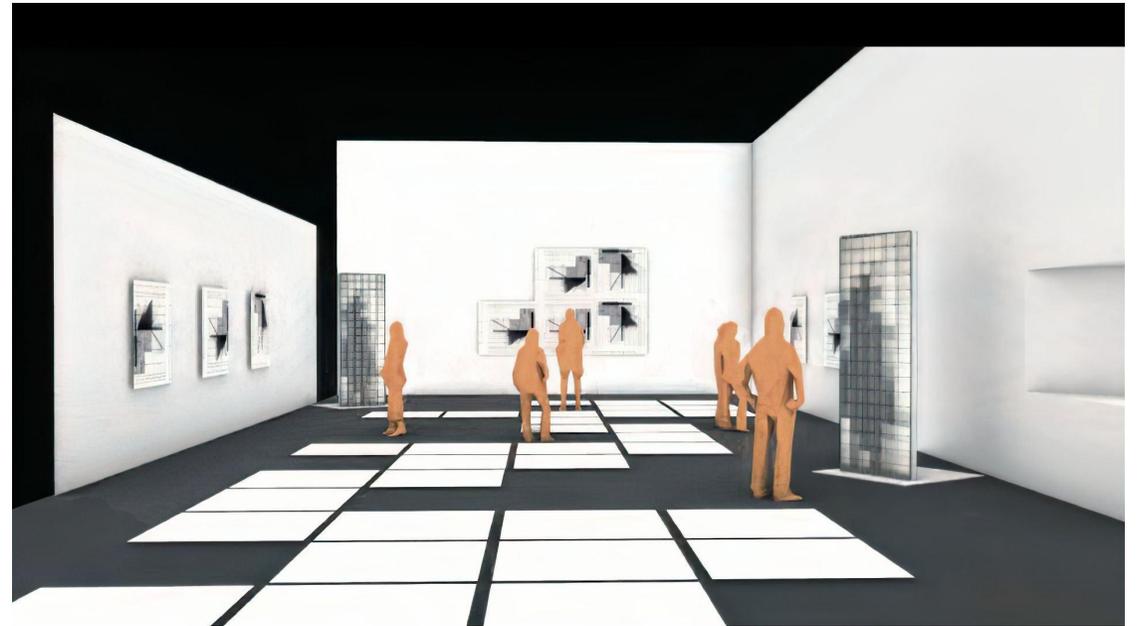

February 22 – April 21

Nature Pix brings both the gentle and tempestuous forces of nature into our gallery through the natural light of the sky and cloud cover, wind moving through trees and across plant surfaces, and in the flow of the Florida Botanical Garden's waterways.

Process: The artist is placing motion, wind, and light sensors throughout the campus, which will pick up the natural movements of our natural environment.

This data is fed back into the gallery, activating a large gridded light sculpture installed on the floor.

The movement of the natural elements outside the gallery will drive the behavior of the code - which visitors will experience through visuals and sound.

Strength of Character

March 14 – April 28

Award-winning guest curator Katherine Gibson creates an environment of visual and physical weight that includes large-scale paintings, elegant sculptural wood pieces, and site-specific installation and assembled objects.

Fantastic, Fun and FREE Art Activity!

Dec 2023 • Family

My daughter and I went to see Holiday Lights at the Florida Botanical Gardens (wonderful!) and discovered the Gallery at Creative Pinellas. What amazing artwork in a beautiful space - it was like a museum except friendlier. We looked at the art, my daughter played the art scavenger hunt and was thrilled to receive a prize from the very nice person at the front desk, and then we bought hot chocolate and cookies in their little coffee shop. They told us they had monthly art activities for kids on every third Saturday so we will definitely be back!! Oh - and except for the cocoa and cookies it was all FREE!

Arts Navigator

We listened, we learned, we are pivoting to what the market wants.

During 2023, Creative Pinellas explored how Arts Navigator performed in the market and discovered valuable voice of customer to improve the product.

We made a plan, but did hit some bumps in our development strategy as we moved to our new approach and experienced a longer than ideal downtime during December and January. We were able to take what we learned during the downtime to have a 2.0 release by April with followup releases to improve upon the User Experience.

NEW for Arts Navigator 2.0:

- Brand Update
- Intuitive UI/UX
- See ALL Events
